MAYOR OF LONDON

Transport for London

Welcome

to river travel in London

Welcome to the Spring and Summer 2008 edition of the River Thames boat service guide. Whether you are planning a trip on the Thames for leisure or business, our comprehensive guide is here to help you plan your journey.

Fast river buses now operate all day every day from Embankment pier and Waterloo (London Eye) pier to the O2 at North Greenwich with some continuing to Woolwich Arsenal. The last boat back from the O2 is at midnight (0100 Saturday morning and Sunday morning). A peak hours only service operates between Putney, Chelsea Harbour and Blackfriars.

River cruises are available between Westminster, Waterloo (London Eye), Embankment, Tower and Greenwich. Longer trips are available to Kew, Richmond and Hampton Court and to view the Thames Barrier.

If you are planning to visit the Tate galleries, the Millbank to Bankside river service provides the easiest and most direct transport link between Tate Britain and Tate Modern.

Lunch and dinner cruises are available. The guide also contains information on places of interest, and contact details for operators offering boats for hire for events, corporate functions and private parties.
